LONDON, January 13.

It being generally believed that a conſiderable treaſure yet remains buried in the ſeveral forts of the Myſore country, it has been notified by government that perſons not proprietors, giving information of concealed property, are to be allowed one fourth of the treaſure, or value of the effects, diſcovered in conſequence of ſuch information; and the commanding officers of the forts, &c. are authoriſed to dig for treaſures, under condition that one half of all that may be found ſhall be delivered to the prize agents, for the benefit of the army.

A cartel hired by ſome maſters of veſſels, priſoners in Cherbourg, arrived at Weymouth on Friday. They ſtate that proviſions of all kinds are very reaſonable in that country. A loaf of very good bread, weighing twelve pounds, which they brought over, coſt only one ſhilling. They likewiſe give an account of the force and number of men of the French privateers. The force of the Conſtitution was only twelve guns and forty men. They ſay the French make a pretty good trade out of ours.

A curious circumſtance took place on board the Royal William at Spithead, which at firſt was by our ſailors, a ſuperſtitious race of men notwithſtanding all their courage, conſidered an unfavourable omen for the Union. On new year's day, the Royal William having hoiſted the new royal ſtandard, fired a royal ſalute, but in haling down the royal ſtandard, the lanyards by which it was ſuſpended gave way, the ſtandard fell overboard, ſunk in the deep, and diſappeared. On the 5th, however, when the ſhip was unmooring, the ſurpriſe of the crew may be conceived when they found the flag entwined round the anchor! From this circumſtance, it ſeems not unfair to infer, that while the Union flag is ſaved by adhering to the anchor of the navy, there is juſt ground of Hope!

NEW-YORK, March 6.

According to accounts from Conſtantinople of the 10th of December, a ſerious quarrel had happened in that capital between a part of the crews of the Turkiſh and Ruſſian fleets, in which ſome officers loſt their lives. The Porte immediately offered any ſatisfaction that might be required; but the ambaſſador from the court of Peterſburg would not accept any, till he had received inſtructions from Paul I. to whom he diſpatched an extraordinary courier with an account of the circumſtances.

Several accounts ſtate, that the Ruſſians provoked the quarrel in order to furniſh their ſovereign with a pretext to make war on the Porte. If it be true, that the emperor Paul has guaranteed Egypt to the French, as ſtated in the London papers, this affray, it is not unlikely, was intended for that purpoſe. In the preſent critical ſituation in which the Porte is placed, a war with Ruſſia would produce ruinous conſequences to the Ottoman empire. Every thing indicates, that the flames of war, which begin to gleam in the north will ſpread to the eaſt. According to the laſt advices from Conſtantinople, no accounts had been received of the appearance of Sir Ralph Abercrombie at the place of his deſtination. Some private letters from the Continent, however, ſtate that intelligence had been received of his ſafe arrival at Rhodes, whence he was ſoon to ſail for Egypt.

PHILADELPHIA, March 10.

We are credibly informed that Mr. Livingſton is not to proceed immediately to France; but that Mr. Dawſon, member of congreſs from Virginia, is appointed to carry out the treaty, and in conjunction with Mr. Vans Murray, to negotiate the ſupplementary arrangements, which may be deemed neceſſary—It would be indecorous, at this time, to intimate, that in this procedure, there is any unnecessary expence or uſeleſs creation of public officers.

March 12.

We have ſeen a letter from Waſhington, dated one day later that the accounts in our laſt—It ſtates, confidently, that Mr. Dexter will reſign the office of ſecretary of the treaſury in May next, and that Mr. Gallatin is appointed to ſucceed him.

It is alſo underſtood, that Mr. Stoddert, of the navy department, will ſoon reſign, and that general Smith will be his ſucceſſor. The appointment was offered to Mr. Langdon, of the ſenate, but he refuſed it.

WASHINGTON, March 10.

The legiſlature of Maſſachuſetts, on the 25th ult. appointed a committee to prepare and report a reſpectful addreſs to the late preſident of the United States, about to retire to private life.—The addreſs to expreſs the grateful and high ſenſe they entertain of the numerous and eminent ſervices he has rendered his country, particularly in the elevated ſtation of chief magiſtrate of the union—aſſuring him of their undiminiſhed confidence in his character, and of an affectionate welcome into the boſom of his country.—The committee conſiſted of the Speaker, Meſſrs. Knox, Hall, Tillinghaſt, Putnam, Ward, and Moreton, on the part of the repreſentatives, and of the Preſident, Meſſrs. Bridge, Jones, Dwight, Treadwell, and Richborn, on the part of the ſenate.

BALTIMORE, March 9.

A London paper of January 18, ſays, "An American frigate, the firſt ſhip of war belonging to the United States that ever entered a Turkiſh harbour, arrived at Conſtantinople on the 23d ult. with the tribute or preſents, from the dey of Algiers, eſtimated to be worth five millions of piaſters. The American captain was under the immediate protection of the Algerine ambaſſadors, and was alſo received in the moſt hoſpitable manner by lord Elgin, the Britiſh ambaſſador."

March 11.

The three maritime powers of the north intend to ſend to ſea in the courſe of the ſpring 40 ſail of the line to maintain their armed neutrality; and the preſſing of ſeamen has already been ordered in the different provinces of Sweden.

The number of emigrants eraſed from the liſts of proſcription, amounted, on the 31ſt of December laſt, according to ſome of the Paris journals, to the number of 20,000.

The celebrated M. Neckar has emerged a little from his retirement to mingle in public affairs. He lately communicated to the legiſlature of Helvetia plans for the better regulation of ſeveral branches of finance.

March 12.

The Philadelphia Gazette ſays, it is hinted that Mr. Adams will be again called into public life by his fellow citizens of Maſſachuſetts; who, it is ſaid, intend to run him for governor.

By order,
NINIAN PINKNEY, Clk.

An ACT prescribing the form of the bond to be hereafter given by the clerks of the several counties of this state.

WHEREAS large sums of money are paid into the hands of the clerks of the several counties annually, under the provisions of existing laws, and the bond heretofore prescribed to be given by said clerks does not secure the payment of the same to the treasurer of the several shores of this state; therefore,

II. Be it enacted, by the General Assembly of Maryland, That hereafter the form of the bond to be executed by the clerks of the several counties of this state shall be in manner and form following, to wit: "Know all men by these presents, that we, A. B. C. D. and G. H. of —— county, are held and firmly bound unto the state of Maryland in the full and just sum of five thousand pounds current money, to be paid to the said state of Maryland; to the which payment well and truly to be made and done, we bind ourselves, our and each of our heirs, executors and administrators, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.
